ALL ABOUT FLEMING HOUSE

Fleming House, on the outskirts of Eastleigh, is a new nursing home extension to an existing County Council residential home, completed in 2006. It has all the latest equipment to ensure that residents' needs are met, while having at the same time a relaxed, welcoming and homely atmosphere.

Fleming House has a sunny enclosed garden which is part paved and part grass, with shrub borders, raised flowerbeds, and plenty of seating.

People in wheelchairs can get to and from all the living and dining areas in the house, and there are specially adapted bathrooms for people who have restricted mobility. There is a lift to the upper floor.

Fleming House...

- provides care for older people with general nursing needs

- provides telephone, television and internet points in all bedrooms
- has a room where residents can smoke, but all other rooms, including the bedrooms, are non-smoking
- is organised into four small, friendly units, where residents share a lounge and dining area.
