

Come out to Play!

on Saturday 14 January 2012

at Winklebury School, Willoughby Way, Basingstoke, Hampshire, RG23 8AF

Re:Play is working in partnership with Basingstoke & Deane Borough Council and Hampshire Play Network to host this open play networking event.

- Local, regional and national updates from the play world
- Practical play workshops – ‘Noise-Makers using Scrap’, and ‘Playing with the Elements’
- Fantastic play resources available at great prices
- Market Place – information stands on training, playwork and more...

Who should come?

Anyone working in play, or anyone with an interest in children's play – playworkers, play rangers, childminders, parents or council officers. And you don't have to live in Hampshire to access this event.

What's happening?

We have speakers, a marketplace offering information, Milton Keynes Play Association's scrapstore (bring your money!) and two workshops – 'Noise Makers using Scrap', and 'Playing with the Elements' (an outdoor workshop which will run even if it's snowing!).

What time is it?

Registration begins at 9.00 and the day starts at 9.30. The first workshop is at 10.00 and the second, after a refreshment break, will be at 11.45. The event will finish at 12.45 (or thereabouts!).

How much will it cost?

The cost is £5.00 per delegate, payable on the day.

How do I get there?

The event is being held at Winklebury School, Willoughby Way, Basingstoke. For satnavs use the postcode RG23 8AF.

Childcare

Unfortunately we are unable to offer childcare facilities.

How do I book?

Simply email us at replayenquiries@gmail.com to make your booking, stating clearly your name, setting or organisation (if applicable), address and telephone details, along with any access requirements. Tea and coffee will be available during the event. An email confirmation will be sent to you with the times of your workshops. Remember to bring your £5 delegate fee on the day!
